

Protect North Carolina Citizens by Protecting our Constitution

There are 6 Amendments to the North Carolina Constitution on the ballot in 2018. Constitutional amendments are big changes and are not to be taken lightly.

But all six of these amendments:

- Were rushed through the General Assembly without the usual opportunity for the public to comment.
- Are incomplete or deceptive in their wording (for example, some omit the definitions of important terms, and some fail to explain how the required actions will be carried out or paid for).
- Are only briefly summarized on your ballot. Like with any important contract, you shouldn't approve anything you haven't read completely and understood.

For these reasons, it's safest to vote AGAINST each of the six Amendments.

#NixAllSix

Protect North Carolina Citizens by Protecting our Constitution

There are 6 Amendments to the North Carolina Constitution on the ballot in 2018. Constitutional amendments are big changes and are not to be taken lightly.

But all six of these amendments:

- Were rushed through the General Assembly without the usual opportunity for the public to comment.
- Are incomplete or deceptive in their wording (for example, some omit the definitions of important terms, and some fail to explain how the required actions will be carried out or paid for).
- Are only briefly summarized on your ballot. Like with any important contract, you shouldn't approve anything you haven't read completely and understood.

For these reasons, it's safest to vote AGAINST each of the six Amendments.

#NixAllSix